

“Cooperation between government and education agencies is critical to economic development success,” said state Rep. Arthur Williams (D, Beaufort). “I will continue to work in the state House of Representatives to enact policies that encourage government and businesses to work together to facilitate growth.”

Other partners who helped make this announcement possible include: the N.C. Department of Commerce; North Carolina State University’s Industrial Extension Service; Beaufort County; and the City of Washington.

For more information about the company and employment opportunities, visit www.impressionsmkt.com or call 877-550-2211.

###